Full Details of Johnston's Surrender---28,000 Men and 28 Officers Surrendered---Condition of the Rebel Army---The Obligation Taken.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

GREENSBORO, N. C. May 3, 1865, via BALTIMORE, May 7.—The task of paroling Johnston's army has just ended. Every officer and man has taken an obligation not to take up arms against the United States government until properly released. Officers have been allowed to retain their side arms, private horses and personal baggage. All the horses and mules have been returned, including artillery and cavalry horses. This has been done both to facilitate the homeward march, and aid in replacing the stock of the country.

The entire arrangements of the surrender have been conducted by Gen. Schofield. He appointed from the Army of the Ohio, nine officers as special commissioners on our part to sign the rolls and receive the public stores. Brigadier General William Hartsuff was in charge of the party. He left Raleigh on a special train on Sunday morning, and reached Greensboro at four o'clock P. M. on Monday. The number paroled is about 28,000, including many sick and wounded from several rebel armies, a large number of stragglers from Lee's army, and the naval brigade commanded by the pirate Semmes. The regiments were all greatly depleted in Lee's corps, averaging where consolidated about 800 men present and absent.

THE CORPS SURRENDERED.

Three corps were surrendered—Hardee's, C. D. Lee's and Stewart's, with about a thousand cavalry under Generals Butler, Hampton and White. By special agreement five per cent. of the small arms were retained by the rebels. The Government will receive about 15,000 stand of arms, 150 cannon, a large supply of ammunition, and nearly all the rolling stock of the Confederacy east of the Chattahoochee river. This, however, is much worn.

THE OBLIGATION.

Each officer, from Johnston to the commander of a company or detachment, made out rolls in duplicate of all officers and men who appeared on the same muster rolls with themselves, and to these the following obligation was attached, and dated at Greensboro, in accordance with the Military Convention, entered into on the 26th day of April, 1865, between General Joseph E. Johnston, commanding Confederate armies, and General W. T. Sherman, commanding the army of the United States in North Carolina:

"We, the officers and men whose names are borne on these rolls, have given our solemn obligation not to take up arms against the Government of the United States until properly released from this obligation, and we are permitted to return to our homes, not to be disturbed by the United States authorities so long as we observe this obligation and obey the laws in force where we may reside."

Thus each officer becomes responsible for his staff, and each officer in succession for those under him. Individual paroles corresponding in number to the names on the rolls, properly signed on both sides, were then delivered to these officers for distribution.

LIST OF GENERALS.

The following officers surrendered with their staffs: Gen Jos E Johnston, Lt Gens S D Lee, W J Hardee, Stewart and Beauregard, with a portion of Bragg's staff, Major Gens D H Hill, N C Stevenson of Va, Wm B Bale of Tenn, Brig Gens Cheatham of Tenn, R F Hoke of N C, J C Brown of Tenn, Loring, Walthal, Andrews and Lomax of Lee's army; Brig Gen Wm F Brantley, of Miss; J A Sharp, of Miss; E W Pettus, of Ala; J H Henderson, of Ga; O L L Bingham, J B Palmer, of Tenn; Capersy, of S C; Govan, of Ark; J Smith, of Tenn; Col Quirt, of Ga; H R Jackson, H Warren, T B Smith, F Y Warren, R C Tyler, of Tenn; J S Findley, of Fla; Shelley, Featherstone, Lowry and Davidson, of Lee's army; Commodores Forrest and Lynch, and the pirate Semmes of the Confederate navy.

THE REBEL CAMPS.

The rebel camp equipage was very limited and much worn. Corps headquarters were allowed only two tents and one small wagon. About half their wagons and ambulance trains had been captured from the United States. The army was stretched along the railroad from Hillsboro to Charlotte, and officers have been sent to the latter place to parole the forces there. The rebel troops are stealing everything from the citizens, and their breaking up is much dreaded by the rebels. Their camps were pitched with little regard to order, and resembled our bivouacs, more than regular camps. The reports which have been circulated concerning the impoverished condition of the South and the approximate extermination of the fighting population is confirmed by the concurrent testimony of officers representing all sections. The feeling against England and France is universal and intensely bitter. The hatred which Southern soldiers cherished against Northern troops in the first years of the war has almost entirely disappeared.

THE FEELING OF THE REBEL ARMY.

Johnston, in conversation with our officers, said that the obstacles overcome by our army were unprecedented in the history of the world. Hardee stated that the swamps through which Sherman led his army in South Carolina, were deemed utterly impassable by the best judges in their army. While the officers and soldiers seem to feel their failure deeply, yet all rejoiced that the war was over and they could go home. The citizens everywhere gladly hail the approach of peace. The sentiment of the army was strong and marked against the assassination of the President. All admit freely that they are soundly whipped, and that slavery is dead. Johnston remarked that the South would get along much better without the system.

JEFF DAVIS' FLIGHT.

Both Johnston and Hardee state that Davis did not take advantage of the truce to escape, but that he was at Monroe on the 26th ult.; that he left that place after the termination of the truce, guarded by 1,000 picked men under Wheeler and Basil Duke. He had with him the specie taken from Richmond, with the exception of $500,000, which was distributed among the troops here, each officer and soldier receiving between one and two hundred dollars. To-morrow a great part of the army will start for home. The late decision of the Attorney General, fixing the status of the rebels, fell like a thunderbolt upon thousands who desire to enter the Border States and come North. Many prominent officers intend to leave for Europe at once.

The E. P. Christy Will.

This extraordinary case has been in litigation in the Surrogate's Court for two years and a half. The amount of property left by Mr. Christy is estimated at $100,000 to $150,000.

Mr. Christy's life and career were peculiar, and a review of his history is rendered necessary to the Surrogate's opinion, by the questions raised as to his soundness of mind and his marriage relations. He is found to have been living in 1845 in Buffalo with a lady, who had, previous to her connection with him, been known as Harriet E. Harrington. Evidence was given as to a marriage between him and Mrs. Harrington, and as to the general reputation of both parties, and the Surrogate determines that the relation between husband and wife is established to have existed between them, and therefore that she and her surviving son are properly in court as contestants of the will. Christy soon after came to New York city, leaving Harriet and the four children he had had by her in Buffalo. Here he became almost immediately distinguished in his business of negro minstrelsy, and began to accumulate property very rapidly. Harriet and the chilcren followed him to this city, where he provided for them in a moderate manner. He visited them occasionly, but he began to live with a lady previosly called Mary Miller or Mary Maples, and to introduce her as his wife. It is this lady (who also survives him) in whose favor he has made his will.

In the Spring of 1848, Mr. Christy leaped from the second-story window of the house in which he and Mary lived, in Eighteenth street, in this city. The coroner's jury found that at the time of the commission of this suicidal act, he was in a condition of temporary insanity. Mr. Christy fell upon the pavement in the back yard, head foremost, fracturing some of the cervical vertebrae and his right forearm, and from these injuries he came to his death, twelve days after. His case the Surrogate consider to have been a remarkable one, in a physiological aspect. Here was a man with his neck broken, and his whole body, from the neck down, perfectly paralyzed, and the length of time during which he lived in this condition, as well as the intellectual capacity he evinced in conversation are, as shown by the testimony of witnesses, most extraordinary. The Surrogate consider it to be proven that Mr. Christy gave intelligent directions for his will to his council, Mr. Clark, and actually executed it with the necessary formalities. A marriage ceremony was also performed at his deathbed, between him and Miss Miller, which, of course, was null and void, if, as the Court holds, the evidence shows Harriet to have been his lawful wife.

The Surrogate, therefore, decides to admit to probate the will of Mr. Christy, and declares him to have been competent to devise his property.

Mrs. Harriet Christy's claim of dower, as his widow, will have to be made in another proceeding.

Charleston Rebels.

Brig. Gen. John P. Hatch, Provost Marshal of the District in which Charleston is contained has issued an order which shows that he can be prompt and just as well as courteous. The order is in full as follows:

HEADQUARTERS NORTHERN DISTRICT, DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, Charleston, April 25, 1865.—GENERAL ORDERS No. 29.—It has been reported at these headquarters that Rev. Alex. W. Marshall, Missionary of St. John's Chapel, Hampstead, has, in the services of the said chapel, since the occupation of the city by the United States forces, omitted the prayers for the President of the United States. In a written communication, addressed to the commander of the post of Charleston, he styles the prayer for the President of the United States a "political prayer." It is therefore ordered that he be sent beyond the lines of the army, and be forbidden to enter the city of Charleston during its occupation by the United States troops without the permission of the commander of the district or department.

It is further ordered that his personal property be confiscated to the use of the United States Government.

In punishing the head of the congregation worshipping in St. John's Chapel, the Brigadier General commanding desires it to be considered a warning to those who, attending the services for weeks, so far forgot their duty to their country as not to inform the military authorities of the conduct of this disloyal priest.

They are also warned that they will hereafter be marked persons, and any act done, or word uttered, in justification of his disloyalty, will subject them to a like punishment.

By command of Brig. Gen. J. P. HATCH.
L. B. PERRY, Assistant Adj't Gen.

One of General Grant's Aids.

[From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, April 18.]

Colonel Eli S. Parker, Aid-de-Camp and Private Secretary of General Grant, is in town and stopping at the Astor House. Colonel Parker is an Indian of the purest blood of the Iroquois, and is at present Head Chief of the Six Nations. He is a finely educated man of rare social qualities and very greatly esteemed by his hosts of friends. As a Civil Engineer he has held high positions on the public works of this State and under the Federal Government. Prior to the outbreak of the war, he was in Government employ at Galena and Dubuque, superintending the erection of a post office, hospital and custom-house at these places. There he formed the acquaintance of General Grant, who, during the war, has had him constantly on his personal staff.

Colonel Parker carries always with him the great silver medal presented to his grand uncle, Red Jacket, in 1792, by Washington. This is a most interesting historical relic, and is cherished with great care by the Iroquois and their Chieftain. The medal was engraved by Rittenhouse, and is appropriately emblazoned. On last Friday, Colonel Parker showed this medal to the late President, and spoke feelingly of the associations it represents.

The Colonel was, of course, officially present at the surrender of General Lee. His descriptions of that event, and of the days of battle that preceded it, are most graphic and interesting.

The following is as good as could be desired: To the Editor of the N. Y. Tribune:

SIR—The bells are tolling for our dead President—the bravest, truest heart in all the land is still.

If you don't hang 500 of your Northern proslavery traitors within a month I hope in my soul they'll hang you within two. They show some little vim in the devil's service. I am a born and bred

SOUTHERN WOMAN.

Baltimore, April 15th, 1865.

A man went to Gen. Thomas, asking him not to execute a noted guerrilla in his custody, giving as a reason that the war was about at an end. "I guess we shall have time to hang this fellow," was the response of the sturdy General, as he dismissed the subject.

For the first time since the suspension of specie payment, the supply of cents at the mint in Philadelphia, it is stated, exceeds the demand.

The substitute clubs are declaring dividends.

DAILY UNION PRESS.

PAYNE THE ASSASSIN.

The correspondent of the World has prepared an interesting account of a number of persons engaged in the assassination conspiracy. Among these he speaks of Payne, as a Kentuckian and one of a family of three brothers. Payne is charged with the attempted assassination of Secretary Seward. He is a Kentuckian, the family having lived about Uniontown, but is one of a family of six brothers, four of whom were notorious as desperadoes of the most demoniac character, who took to the rebellion as naturally as ducks take to water. While the rebels occupied Hopkinsville, Ky., one of the brothers murdered a brother rebel named Brooks, and if the people of Hopkinsville had been called upon to vote a choice as to which of the twain should be killed by the other, the choice would have been one of embarrassment. There would have been a unanimous vote among the loyal people in favor of a Kilkenny cat affair of it. Payne had to fly from the rebel command. The brothers are known to many persons here in connection with the celebrated gold seizure by General Shackeltord, while Colonel of a Kentucky regiment. The Paynes while operating with the Confederacy concluded to try their hand at depredating upon that concern. They got up a good counterfeit of the Confederate money, which they traded to a Georgia banker for sterling bills.

After the Paynes got away with their plunder, the banker discovered the character of the Confederate money, and made an arrangement with a Mr. Lee, a loyal East Tennesseean for the recovery of the money. He got upon the track of the counterfeiters and discovered that nearly all the money had been placed in the custody of one man. Lee made arrangements with the custodian, by which the money was surrendered for a consideration. While on his way South with this, Col. Shackelford, who exhibited, throughout his career in southwestern Kentucky, remarkable powers in tracking all kinds of contraband depredations, got on the scent of the gold for which the sterling bills had been exchanged, and seized it, and effectually estopped the transmigration of the treasure to Georgia. The case was tried in the United States Court in this city, and the money was confiscated. But Secretary Chase very properly remitted a portion of it to Mr. Lee in consideration of the fact that but for his agency in the business, the United States' authorities might never have heard of the property.

The Confederacy got hold of one of the Paynes and hung him for this counterfeiting transaction. This, of itself, shows how utterly depraved must have been the character of Payne, because when a man got to be so bad that the Confederacy had no further use for him but to hang him, there is but one other place that has ever been heard of that could be supposed a fit receptacle for him, though we are far from asserting positively that that would be a suitable home for him, unless he were subjected to solitary confinement.

Some of the rest of this precious family went to Texas and bought a large drove of cattle with some of this counterfeit money, and drove the cattle to Vicksburg amd sold them. One of this twain is the one who was hung at Natchez.

The assassin Payne probably found the Confederacy too hot for him and when those train-band captains, C. C. Clay, Jake Thompson, Beverly Tucker, George N. Sanders, Cleary, and the rest of the commissioners of Jeff Davis, in Canada, were organizing a scheme of assassination, they were probably embarrassed with their riches in suitable material.

The reader will remember that when these precious scoundrels, Jake Thompson, C. C. Clay, George N. Saunders and the rest of Davis's gang, were organizing devastations upon Detroit, the two Paynes were chosen instruments. The gang were companions, as of congeniality they should have been, in Canada, a colony of the "Southern Confederacy," the palladium of Southern treason, where crimes of rebels are held to even less accountability, than in the home of the treason. Payne was selected by the Canadian plotters as a trusty tool in the devilment of assassination. These facts are conclusive as to the complicity of the Confederate demons in Canada in the conspiracy for assassination. Payne went on to play his part in the work on the 4th of March, but as the scheme was postponed, he found his way to the house of Mrs. Surrat, the she devil of the concern. At her house he passed under the name of Wood, whether Ben or Fernando, we do not know.

After his failure to assassinate Secretary Seward, Payne mounted a horse that had been provided for him, but found some trouble in attempting to hurry through the city, because the population of Washington was in the streets by the time he got under way. And when he worked himself to a point where he supposed it was safe to hurry, and commenced that part of his game, his horse fell and pitched him headlong in the road. When he recovered his senses, he crept from the road and attempted to disguise himself. His hat was gone, and he made an impromptu cap of one of the sleeves of his flannel shirt, smeared himself with dirt, stole a pick from the Washington fortifications, and headed for the house of his friend and coadjutor, Mrs. Surrat, where he presented himself as a day-laborer. He walked into a trap that had not been baited for him. When he arrived detectives were in the house arresting Madame Surrat, and upon being asked for some account of himself, he did not possess ingenuity enough to make a plausible lie. He said he had come to dig a trench for Mrs. Surrat, which that amiable lady denied. The application of water to his face and hands soon revealed the fact that an important capture had been made, and upon being confronted with some of the persons who met him at Mr. Seward's house, he was recognized as the assassin.

When placed in prison, his past and future loomed before him crowded with horrid specters and to rid the eyes of his thoughts from their startling forms, he attempted to beat out his brains against the walls of his prison.

How grandly do the ringing utterances of Daniel Webster, in referring to Richard Crowninshield, the hired murderer of Captain Joseph White, start up in memory as we look upon this scene. Payne felt himself safe in Washington. He was unknown except to the assassins confederated with him, confederated in a double sense, and he had nothing to fear from them. When baffled in his flight, his return to Washington shows how small an amount of sense his crime had left him. In the language of Webster, to which we have referred:

"The secret which the murderer possesses soon comes to possess him; and like the evil spirits of which we read, it overcomes him, and leads him whithersoever it will. He feels it beating at his heart, rising to his throat, and demanding disclosure. He thinks the whole world sees it in his face, reads it in his eyes, and almost hears its workings in the very silence of his thoughts. It has become his master. It betrays his discretion, it breaks down his courage, it conquers his prudence. When suspicions from without begin to embarrass him, and the net of circumstances to entangle him, the fatal secret struggles with still greater violence to burst forth. It must be confessed, it will be confessed; there is no refuge from confession but suicide, and suicide is confession."

Jeff Brown a Judicial Candidate!

[For the Union Press.]

"Many voters of Jefferson county" call on "Hon. Jeff Brown" to run for Common Pleas Judge. They say "Judge" Brown is a "gentleman of cultivated and refined feeling, of great amiability of manner, and experience," but don't relate his experience. He is a "gentleman in every respect;" so is his old and most amiable friend "Hon. Jeff Davis," according to "Hon. Ben Harris."

Jeff Brown befriended Jeff Davis from the start, and would to-day, were that "great man and Christian gentleman" still in power. Had Kentucky been left to the disposal of Jeff Brown, Bill Heady, Dave Merriwether, & Co., she would have been transferred to the tender mercies of Jeff Davis sooner even than "King Harris's" Tennessee. They were always prominent executive members of Jeff Davis's Kentucky "peace party" and "peace conventions," and always laboring for the largest circulation in Kentucky of "honorable, faithful, able, and temperate newspapers" like the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the interdiction of all other journals as "incendiary and inhuman." Most fortunately for Kentucky and her loyal people, these secession "gentlemen" did not get the ascendancy they strove for.

But they still unblushingly claim the suffrages of Kentuckians, as having "every requisite qualification" for the most responsible offices. Kentucky Unionists want as judges over them none so amply qualified to serve only the cause of secession.

Let such "Southern Rights Democrats" experience the bitter fruits of their knavery, folly, and madness. Let them be consigned to ignominious obscurity, at least until they have repented in sackcloth and ashes, and done works meet for repentance.

MARCO.

Portraits of Jefl. Davis and C. C. Clay in 1860.

[For the Union Press.]

That "Christian gentleman," late of Richmond, for whose arrest the President offers $100,000, was thus described as he appeared in the United States Senate in 1860:

"Davis is nervously built, of middle hight, thin, quivering, full of excitable emotions, with a forehead of immense capacity and breadth; sparkling and very deeply set gray eyes, one of which almost destroyed by the anguish of tic dolereux; a hooked nose, slender, and with nostrils almost transparent; a mouth vigorously sinewed and channeled at its sides; a delicate, thin lower face, betraying the pangs of physical ailment in every tracing; cheeks hollow and wasted, as if by dyspepsia; a prematurely gray-haired, prematurely wrinkled man, with no resources visible to sustain him at his present height of labor and power, except the unconquerable spirit of rule, and an intellect which shines out in pervading lustre through every lineament and gesture."

C. C. Clay was then described as "looking Cateline to the life. That dark sinister face, those sunken, glittering eyes, that long, black beard and hair; they would become a bandit of the Appenines much more than they do a Senator of the United States."

SECESSION IN PETTICOATS.

Mr. Nathaniel Wolfe, in June, 1862, when ostensibly a most uncompromising Unionist said:

For a true woman he ever cherished an exalted reverence and admiration, but for those who unsexed themselves by a display of treason and ill-breeding, he had none. Whenever secession shows its head, it must be struck, whether it struts in pantaloons, glories in petticoats, or displays itself in the conduct of brazen-faced and badly trained children. Women and children must be made to understand that they have no more right or justification for rebellion or secession than for stealing, lying, forgery, house-burning or murder.

The Customs Revenue.

The Customs Revenue of the United States, for the fiscal year now drawing to its close, was estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury, in his annual report to Congress last December, at seventy-two millions in gold. He had then only the actual receipts of the first quarter of the year—July 1, 1864, to September 30, 1864—as the basis of his calculation. These receipts were $19,000,000, which, multiplied by four would have authorized an estimate of $78,000,000 for the year, as against $68,000,000 gold interest charge for the year on the funded public debt. But Mr. Fessenden made more than due allowance for the apprehended falling off through the second and third quarters, and even for the last quarter. As ten months of the fiscal year have now elapsed, producing at the port of New York, $45,460,717, equal, on the proportion of 72 per cent. of the whole, to a total of $63,140,000 for the ten months at all the points, we are justified in believing that the Secretary's estimate for the year ending June 30 will be exceeded by from six to eight millions. In other words, the Customs receipts, in gold, of the fiscal year 1864, will be from $78,000,000 to $80,000,000. The immediate improved look of the import trade, and the prospect of a further increase as the pursuits of peace are restored to the Southern States might authorize even a larger calculation. The following are the customs received in gold, and gold interest paid out at New York, the office of the Treasury, since the beginning of the current fiscal year to the 1st May instant:

	Customs Received.		Gold Interest Paid.
July	$3,585,543	July	$1,881,000
August	6,237,564	August	2,106,784
September	4,084,494	September	3,113,699
October	3,670,188	October	1,895,066
November	3,445,158	November	4,032,550
December	3,467,368	December	4,103,406
January	4,267,399	January	2,449,290
February	4,823,214	February	913,429
March	6,471,626	March	2,009,665
April	6,389,360	April	163,187
Total	$45,460,617	Total	$22,728,022
Balance carried into May			$22,732,595

To this we may add at least $12,000,000 for May and June at New York, or for all the ports $16,500,000.

For the preceding fiscal year, the gold interest charge upon the funded public debt of the United States will be $64,016,631, while there is every reason to believe that the customs revenue for the year will considerably exceed one hundred millions in gold. It was $102,000,000 the year befor the present on a lower scale of tariff duties, and with no trade with the Southern States then in insurrection.

"Issac," said Mrs. Partington to her nephew, "when you enter the state of alimony, choose a voracious and well-informed young woman. Then, my dear, your love will be infernal, and your posterity uncertain." Ike looked exceedingly solemn, and continued putting molasses on the door knob.

THE DAILY PRESS

OFFICE---PRESS BUILDING
NO. 826
JEFFERSON STREET,
LOUISVILLE:

THUYSDAY, MAY 11, 1865.

News of the Day.

President Johnson is reported to have said that he would not allow his private views to influence the national policy of neutrality of his predecessor. The neutrality laws will be put in force against all who attempt to compromise the Government on the Mexican question. This looks like a warning to Mexican agents, who are now very active in recruiting, as is supposed, for the Mexican army in this country. The fact, however, that Gen. Grant and staff dined with Senor Romero, the Mexican Minister, is looked upon as significant, and favorable for struggling Mexico.

The cavalry forces of our armies, it is stated, are not to be disbanded for sometime yet The cavalry of the Army of the Potomac is to be reorganized, and with the force in the southwest, to be placed under command of Gen. Sheridan for operations west of the Mississippi. The consolidated force will number about 100,000 men.

By order of General Grant all paroled rebel prisoners held at Alexandria, Va., are to be sent to their homes. Those whose homes may be in States that have not been in rebellion will be required to take the oath of allegiance. This is in accordance with a recent decision of the Attorney General. Prisoners excepted in the President's amnesty proclamation are not included in this order.

At a meeting of the Anti-slavery Society in New York yesterday, a resolution by Mr. Garrison in favor of dissolving the society, its work having been accomplished and its objects realized in the abolition of slavery, was rejected by the decisive vote of 118 to 48.

The capture of Saltillo and Monterey by the Liberal forces in Mexico is confirmed. They have also captured Victoria, the capitol of Tampa.

The loyal State Government in Virginia having been established, and the civil machinery put in operation, the President is now turning his attention to North Carolina with a view of re-establishing as soon as possible the civil authority.

The officers of the gunboat Florida, which touched at Pensacola, Florida, on the 29th ult., on her voyage from New Orleans to New York, contradict the rumor that Mallory, the rebel Secretary of the Navy, had surrendered himself to Captain Gibson of the frigate Potomac. Up to the date named the fugitive Secretary had not been seen in that region. The Florida had on board the ex-commander of the rebel ram Webb, who is said to be a nephew of Jeff Davis'.

An agent of the Post Office Department has been sent to St. Louis by Postmaster General Dennison to make arrangements for the resumption of mail transportation on the Mississippi river throughout its entire length, to New Orleans as well as upon its tributaries.

The court for the trial of the conspirtaors was in session yesterday. Reporters for the press are excluded. The reason for this is that the testimony before the court may implicate parties not now under arrest, and if the proceedings were made public such persons might escape before their arrest could be made.

Among the rebel officers who have recently taken the oath of allegiance, is Albert Rhett, of South Carolina, one of the original fire-eaters, commandant of Fort Sumter up to the evacuation of Charleston, Colonel of the First South Carolina Heavy Artillery, Acting Brigadier-General under Hardee, and captured at Bentonsville by Kilpatrick. He has been confined at Fort Delaware.

The Erie Railway car manufactory in Jersey City, near the Bergen tunnel, took fire about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, and was burned down. The loss is estimated at $130,000.

By the arrival of the Asia we have several days later news from Europe. An immense meeting was held in St. James Hall, London, on the evening of the 29th, to express the universal feeling of grief, indignation, and horror caused by the assassination of President Lincoln. Speeches were made eulogistic of Mr. Lincoln and in sympathy with the popular feeling by prominent men. Resolutions expressing sympathy for the family of our late President were adopted. The Lower House of the Austrian Legislature adopted an address of condolence with the family of the deceased President. The news will be read with interest.

The sale of seven-thirties yesterday amounted to $17,410,100.

Gold in New York yesterday after call at Gallagher's Exchange was 129½.

TRADE REGULATIONS.

That the members of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange may at their meeting this evening act understandingly, we quote for their instruction some of the provisions of the existing acts of Congress relating to commercial intercourse between the States which are in insurrection and those which are not. By the 5th section of act 13th July 1861, it is provided that under certain circumstances which are stated:

It may and shall be lawful for the President, by proclamation, to declare that the inhabitants of such State, or any section or part thereof, where such insurrection exists, are in a state of insurrection against the United States; and thereupon all commercial intercourse by and between the same, and the citizens thereof and the citizens of the rest of the United States shall cease and be unlawful, so long as such condition of hostility shall continue; and all goods and chattels, wares and merchandise, coming from said State or section, into the other parts of the United States, and all proceeding to such State or section, by land or water, shall, together with the vessel or vehicle carrying the same, or conveying persons to or from such State or section be forfeited to the United States. Provided, however, that the President may, in his discretion, license and permit commercial intercourse with any such part of said State or section, the inhabitants of which are so declared in a state of insurrection, in such articles and for such time, and by such persons as he, in his discretion, may think most conducive to the public interest, and such intercourse, so far as by him licensed, shall be conducted and carried on only in pursuance of rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

In pursuance to this statute the President did, by proclamation, declare that the inhabitants of certain States and parts of States were in insurrection, and regulations were adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury—which were approved by the Secretary of War—allowing trade to a limited extent in certain prescribed sections.

It will be perceived that, under this statute, the powers of the President are unlimited; that is, he might license trade so extensively as to make it practically free. But the powers of the President, in this respect, are materially modified and restricted by the Act of July 2, 1864. By the 9th section of this Act it is provided,

That so much of section five of the act of the 13th of July, 1861, as authorizes the President, in his discretion, to license or permit commercial relations in any State or section the inhabitants of which are declared in a state of insurrection, is hereby repealed, except so far as may be necessary to authorize supplying the necessities of loyal persons residing in insurrectionary States, within the lines of actual occupation by the military forces of the United States, as indicated by the published order of the Commanding General of the Department or District so occupied, and also, except so far as may be necessary to authorise persons residing within such lines to bring or send to market in the loyal States any products which they shall have produced with their own labor or the labor of freedmen, or others employed and paid by them pursuant to rules relating thereto, which may be established under proper authority. And no goods, wares, or merchandize shall be taken into a State declared in insurrection, or transported therein, except to and from such places and to such monthly amounts as shall have been previously agreed upon in writing by the commanding General of the department in which such places are situated, and an officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for that purpose.

The President has no power to dispense with this statute. The restrictions on trade with the insurrectionary States, being imposed by law, cannot be removed, except by the law-making power, that is, by Congress. The effect of repealing or rescinding all of the regulations presented by the Secretary of the Treasury, in respect to this trade, would not be, as some suppose, to render the trade free, but to interdict it altogether. There can be no trade except under license, and under license only to a limited extent. If there be no licenses there can be no trade at all. It would be well for our merchants and citizens to understand this in their deliberations this evening. The existing regulations may be modified, and, no doubt, greatly simplified so as to render commercial intercourse with the inhabitants of States in insurrection less vexatious and burthensome; but they cannot be wholly rescinded without rendering all such intercourse unlawful, and subjecting to forfeiture all property coming from or proceeding to such States.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTIONS.

A convention assembled at Owensboro on the 3d inst. for the purpose of nominating a conservative candidate for Congress for the Second District. But two counties were represented, and it was therefore deemed best to adjourn to meet at Calhoun on the 1st of June, by which time it was thought a large attendance could be secured. Col. John McHenry will be the candidate of this convention, and will doubtless have the honor of being defeated by Mr. Yeaman, as he was two years ago.

The Union Congressional Convention for the Seventh District assembled at Lexington last Saturday. All the counties but three were fully represented. Tucker Woodson of Jessamine county presided over the meeting. General S. S. Fry was the unanimous choice of the convention for Congress, Mr. Eginton's name having been withdrawn. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we regard the stability and perpetuity of our National Government as depending mainly on the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment proposed by Congress, abolishing slavery throughout the United States, and we call upon all persons in this Congressional District to aid us in procuring the adoption of this necessary measure, and thereby destroy the last vestige of rebellion.

Mr. Scott made a few remarks in presenting the resolutions, which were heartily applauded. Capt. W. Harlan stated that he was authorized to withdraw the name of Mr. Eginton from the consideration of the Convention, that gentleman pledging himself to sustain the nominee.

PRESENT TO THE REV. DR. McCLINTOCK. On Monday evening Rev. Dr. McClintock, of St. Paul's M. E. Church, was waited upon, at his residence in Twenty-second street, by members of his church, and made the recipient of a purse of $2,000. A present of $500 was at the same time made to the Rev. E. B. Otheman, the clergyman who has recently filled Rev. Dr. McClintock's pulpit. Dr. McClintock's failing health has compelled him to bid adieu to the work of the ministry, and Rev. Mr. Otheman has accepted a call in the interior.

A Frenchman was tried in Richmond, the other day, by a drumhead court martial, for striking a woman in one of the markets with his cane. He was convicted, and in punishment was paraded through the streets to the tune of the "Rogue's March," with a large placard, labelled "This for striking a woman." The populace enjoyed the affair much more than the Frenchman.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

PETERS, WEBB & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF
GRAND, UPRIGHT & SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES
FACTORY CORNER MAIN AND FOURTEENTH STREETS,
Office and Wareroom, Jefferson, bet. Fourth and Fifth Streets.

ALMOST THE ENTIRE PRODUCT OF OUR MANUfactory has for three years past been required to keep the orders of our agents in Cincinnati, St. Louis and other Western cities. For this reason we have paid of late little attention to our home trade. Having now greatly enlarged our manufacturing facilities, we are happy to announce that we shall hereafter be prepared to fill all retail orders without delay, and at our usual moderate prices.

If we thought proper to follow the bad example of certain manufacturers, we might say that ours is "THE VERY BEST PIANO-FORTE" made in the country. While this, in our opinion, would be nothing less than the simple truth, we prefer that the commendations of our instruments shall come from those who are using them, and from others competent to judge of their merits.

We claim for our New Scale Square Piano, with Overstrung Bass, that it is fully equal in power and purity of tone to any Square Instrument made or sold in the United States, and further, that in the qualities of standing well in tune and retaining its tone, it is unequalled by any Piano of which we have any knowledge.

For our UPRIGHT GRAND we claim that it has no rival of the same class of instrument, either in America or Europe, and that it possesses in the highest perfection all those qualities (without the drawback of ungainliness) which have heretofore been sought after and found only in the Grand Piano.

Our list of references of those who have purchased and are using our Pianos, included teachers, practical tuners, principals of schools, and private individuals residing in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Iowa, Michigan, Kansas and Canada.

Every Instrument warranted for five years.

MEDICAL.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases for which the CEDRON BITTERS are a Specific. In all diseases of the STOMACH, BOWELS, LIVER or KIDNEYS; in affections of the BRAIN, depending upon derangement of the Stomach or Bowels; in GOUT, RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, and in FEVER and AGUE, it is destined to supersede all other remedies. It not only cures these diseases, but it prevents them. A wine glass full of the BITTERS, taken an hour before each meal, will obviate the ill-effects of the most unhealthy climate, and secure the taker against diseases under the most trying exposure.

TRADE WITH THE SOUTH.—Never was there a better opportunity for our merchants to open trade with the Southern States. It is well known to most of them that the mercantile business of that section must be re-organized. The best way to reorganize it is, in our opinion, for our merchants to establish branches of their respective houses all through the South. Louisville is the most accessible point for shipping, and can supply everything needed. Will our merchants take advantage of the golden opportunity? We shall see. It will be seen by the following letter from the Secretary of the Treasury that the three per cent. fee on goods going South is abolished:

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1865—W. D. Gallagher, Surveyor—Three (3) per cent. fee on goods going to insurrectionary States is abolished. Such transportation is hereafter free. HUGH MCCULLOCH, Sec'y Treasury.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—The following important decision on returns for income tax, as relating to deduction properly to be made for losses incurred in outside transactions, and in different branches of business has been made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, March 8, 1865.—SIR: Yours of the 6th inst. relating to the case of ——, is received.

You state that ——, a business firm in Buffalo, placed $40,000 in the hands of a New York broker, instructing him to use it in the purchase and sale of gold, on their account; moreover, that they lost $27,500 in this venture, and claim it should be deducted from their profits of business. I reply, that when a loss is made in any particular business, against which there are no gains to offset, it is considered a dead loss of capital invested in that business.

This has always been the ruling of the office, and in accordance therewith, you will hold —— as individuals, to income tax irrespective of the loss referred to.

Very respectfully,
JOSEPH J. LEWIS, Com.

O. F. PRESBREY, Ass'r Buffalo, N. Y.

THE PIONEER ASSOCIATION.—The weather yesterday was too wet for out door enjoyment; nevertheless the Pioneer Association seemed to have a jolly time, and will not soon forget their visit to this city. The committee of our citizens who had the matter in charge, acquitted themselves admirably. The association were placed in vehicles at an early hour, and taken to all the principal places of interest in the vicinity. The visitors expressed great satisfaction at their reception, and were well pleased with everything they saw. As we were not invited to the place where the refreshments were served up, we do not know what took place there. From appearances every one had enough. We have been furnished a list of the names of the visitors, but our columns are too crowded to publish them.

BOWLES, MILLIGAN AND HORSEY TO BE HUNG.—We learn from the Indianapolis Journal that in accordance with General Court Martial Order No. 214, dated at Washington, May 2d, General Hovey has issued an order fixing Friday, the 19th day of May, 1865, as the day of execution. The prisoners are to be hanged by the neck until they are dead, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 3 o'clock P. M., on the parade ground between Camp Morton and Burnside Barracks. Brevet Brigadier General Ambrose A. Stevens is charged with the execution of the order.

Major J. W. Gordon and Martin M. Ray, counsel for the prisoners, are using every exertion to have the prisoners reprieved, but General Hovey has instructions from Washington to respond to no writs of any kind from civil courts.

MCGILL CLUB.—Pursuant to call the McGill Club met last evening, May 10th, at Beck's Hall, to receive the treasurer's report which was read and unanimously adopted, as follows:

EXPENDITURES.

Amount paid city draft fund for 340 members at $25 each	$8,500 00
Amount paid county draft fund for 57 members at $20 each	1,140 00
Amount paid for 25 recruits at $300 each	7,500 00
Hall rent for six nights	40 00

Revenue Stamps and blank books	6 00

Amount refunded to members of the Club	22,773 40
	$40,120 00

RECEIPTS.

Amount received from 400 members at $100 each	$40,000 00
Interest on Club fund to April 24th	120 95
	$40,120 95

On motion of Mr. Heath a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to Mr. Samuel B. McGill, Treasurer of the Club, for the faithful discharge of his duties, and for his untiring exertions in behalf of the Club.

The proceedings were ordered published in all the city dailies, and the meeting adjourned sine die.

H. STARS, Secretary.

OIL IN ALLEN COUNTY.—We were shown last evening a specimen of Oil from Allen county, Ky. Rev. W. Wright, who owns a tract of land about five miles from Scottsville, struck oil Tuesday about one o'clock. He says it will produce fifty barrels per day. Great excitement prevails.

☞We learn that the Germania Oil Company have struck oil in Barren county.

PRISONERS OF WAR.—Seventeen prisoners of war arrived yesterday from Nashville, and took lodgings at the Military Prison on Broadway. There are now one hundred prisoners of war confined in that establishment, including one Major, three Captains and three Lieutenants, all of whom have expressed a desire to take the oath of allegiance and return home. They will be detained at the Military Prison for the present, in compliance with orders from Washington.

☞Harriet Hosmer's bronze statue of Colonel Benton has arrived in St. Louis, and will be publicly inaugurated at an early day. The Legislature of Missouri appropriated $3,500 for this statue in 1860, and the remaining sum need for the work was subscribed by individuals.

☞A confidence man presented himself to a Chicago banker last week, as Maj. Gen. Hancock, handing him a letter of introduction, and requesting the loan of the trifling sum of $10,000. He came very near obtaining it, too, and was shrewd enough to escape when suspicion was excited.

☞We understand that the prisoners confined in Barracks No. 1 attempted to escape Tuesday night by the tunnelling process. A hole had been cut through the floor and covered with a blanket. They would have escaped Tuesday night if the hole had not fortunately been discovered at roll call.

THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE, (New York: W. R. BIDWELL,) offers its usual variety, skimmed from the cream of English journalism and periodical writing. It is embellished with a fine portrait of Catherine II. of Russia, illustrative of an article by the editor on that famous Empress, whom Carlyle calls "a Louis XIV, in petticoats."

Surrender of the Rebel Malone.

[Correspondence of the Union Press.]

RUSSELLVILLE, KY., May 9, 1865.

A number of people assembled here on last evening for the purpose of witnessing the surrender of the rebel Col. John W. Malone and his regiment of thieves. The terms were made some days ago by Capt. Scott, of Gen. Murray's staff, on the terms of Lee's surrender. Malone proposed to surrender about one hundred men, but when he came in he had the full number of twenty men. Malone and his men have been prowling about and stealing in the Red river country for some months, and have been a terror to all loyal citizens. Whether they will do any better as paroled soldiers than they did as rebel guerrillas, is yet to be seen. John Malone was one of the men who tried to act the bully over Union men in this county, visiting houses in the night, ordering their arrest, and abusing their wives when the men were absent, in the fall of '61. Can loyal men forget this? A CITIZEN.

INQUEST No. 347.—Held May 10, 1865, at the Marine Hospital, between Preston and Floyd and between Madison and Chestnut streets, on the body of a white man, supposed to be Charles Elliott: is about 35 or 40 years old, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, spare built, thin dark hair, had on dark blue pants and sack coat, and is supposed to be a member of the order of A. Y. M. His remains will be kept in the vault of the western cementery, on Jefferson street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, until Friday, 2 o'clock, P. M. He was taken to the hospital yesterday at 1 o'clock, and every means tried to save his life, but all to no purpose. Verdict—Came to his death at the above place at or about 10 o'clock, P. M., May 9th, 1865, from the effects of opium.

J. C. GILL, Coroner.

Commonwealth vs. Timothy King. Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Orlando White, grand larceny; set for the 17th.

Commonwealth vs. Thos. Connelly, burglary; set for the 15th.

Commonwealth vs. Peter Noll, burglary; set for the 18th.

Commonwealth vs. Hatfield, will be the first case tried this morning.

MURDER.—Mr. Daniel Carter, a respectable citizen residing near Martinsville, Morgan county, Indiana, was found dead in a field where he had been plowing, stabbed to the heart. The deed was committed last Thursday. Great excitement prevails in the neighborhood. Peter Dougherty, a copperhead, who had a grudge at Mr. Carter, aud lived on an adjoining farm, was arrested and lodged in jail on suspicion. The circumstantial evidence is said to be very strong against him.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Wednesday, May 10.—John Murray, committing rape on Margaret Crosby; bail in $200 to answer an indictment for assault and battery.

Barney Mann and Mike Ford, robbery; bail in $200 to answer.

Alexander Lee, drunk and disorderly, and carrying concealed a deadly weapon; bail in $100 to answer.

Austin Stanton; drunk; fined $3.

☞We learn that a Federal officer presented himself at the stable of the Louisville City Railway Company Tuesday, and presented his revolver at the head of one of the conductors. His arm was seized, and the conductor escaped. We learn that the conductor had insulted a young lady, relative of the officer. The railway company instantly discharged the conductor.

ARRESTED FOR PERJURY.—Margaret Crosby was arrested yesterday for perjury. She had a man named Murray arrested on the charge of rape. It appears that she only made the charge with the intention of extorting money from Murray. She will have an examination in the Police Court this morning.

A CAUTION.—We publish elsewhere the circular of Adjutant General Lindsey, notifying Claim Agents that no certificate will be issued to those who fail to furnish evidence that the proper license has been procured. Claimants also are interested in this circular, which warns them to beware of irresponsible agents and swindlers.

LOUISVILLE THEATER.—We hardly expected to find as many people at the theater last night. The performance was excellent. To-night Mr. Macaulay will appear as Charles De Moor, in the Robbers, and Miss Ada Gray as Amelia.

☞Ellen Fox is a very bad female. Ellen embraces every opportunity to steal. Yesterday Ellen was again arrested on the charge of stealing $100 from a soldier. She will have an opportunity of vindicating herself this morning.

☞Quite an excitement was created on Fourth street yesterday afternoon about six o'clock. A young man who was carelessly handling a pistol accidentally discharged it. A large crowd instantly gathered around the place. No one was injured.

☞We are again placed under obligations to Billy Pulford, the mail agent on the Nashville railroad, for full files of Nashville papers.

☞General Speed S. Fry was nominated for Congress, by the Union Convention at Lexington, on Monday.

The Memphians are moving for a new theater. They intend to build the finest one in the United States.

☞About all the news in military circles yesterday was the arrest of a couple of men on the charge of being guerrillas.

☞There will be a meeting of the City Council to-night.

BOARD OF TRADE AND MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.

A general meeting of the officers and members of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange, together with all business men interested in the restoration of trade with the South, will take place at their hall on Thursday the 11th inst., at half past twelve o'clock. It is hoped that the attendance will be general and full. The time is rapidly approaching for the revival of unrestricted commercial intercourse with the South, by the establishment of lines of river packets to the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers, as well as to New Orleans and intermediate places, and the tributaries of the Mississippi river. The merchants and business men of Cincinnati, St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, New York and other cities, are alive to the importance of this matter, and have already taken action thereon, by adopting suitable resolutions recommending the abrogation of all restrictions on trade. The Government has already had this subject under consideration, and it is very proper that the voice of its constituents should be heard in regard to it.

Our merchants, in unison with the feeling pervading the country, are preparing for the establishment of a line of Tennesse river and other packets, with a joint stock company of $500,000 capital, to act under a regular charter from the State.

These movements to relieve the trade from its present embargo are not prompted by any mercenary spirit, but in the full conviction that open trade will prove an "active and powerful agent in smoothing all unnecessary acerbity of feeling, by restoring a desirable relation among the people of the South."

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, at its regular session on Saturday, adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this Chamber make direct appeal to the proper authorities, asking that, at the earliest moment consistent with the public interest, all restrictions upon trade with the restored sections of the rebellious States be removed; that commerce in all things not contraband of war be made free to all citizens, and all legitimate branches of industry be encouraged."

In view of this general feeling of commercial men throughout the country, it is incumbent upon our community to act promptly, wisely, and judiciously in the premises. Therefore, let there be a large and general attendance on Thursday of our business men to take this subject into consideration.

☞The band of robbers that have been operating in Putnam county, Indiana, were suddenly brought to grief by a scout of the 43d Indiana on Tuesday. Six of the gang were taken.

AUCTION SALE.—We would call the attention of our readers to the sale of household and kitchen furniture by Wm. Tweddle & Co.

☞A woman was put off the street cars Tuesday night for gross misconduct. The last seen of her she was chasing another car down Main street, swearing furiously.

☞Orders have been received in this city to recruit the colored regiments partly organized to the maximum number.

☞It is understood that the garrisons in Kentucky will amount to about 10,000 men. Louisville will be the principal point.

☞John McDonald was arrested yesterday for attempting to run off witnesses.

USE THE COOT VENT.—The cause of most of the complaints like the following: "I want some good ink; the last you sold me was not worth a cent," or "it got so thick I could not use it," arises from the fact that in pulling the cork it is broken by the cork-screw, or dug from the bottle with a knife, and the bottle left without a cork, or with a piece of one, in a heated office, in some corner on the floor, to evaporate and catch the dust.

With the "Coot Vent," the bottle is cor ked air tight, and any ink stand can be filled with it without removing the cork or soiling the fingers.

It will last for years, and pay for itself in less than one.

It is an ornament to the bottle, keeps it clean, and you are not obliged to put it out of sight.

It will preserve your ink as fresh as when first uncorked.

The main portion will probably be sent into the country west of the Mississippi.

London, April 30.—On Saturday evening, the 39th of April, an immense public meeting convened in St. James Hall to express feelings of grief and horror at the assassination of President Lincoln, and sympathy with the government and people of the United States, and with Mrs. Lincoln, Mr. Seward and family. The galleries of the hall were draped in mourning.

The hall was crowded with people, who manifested not merely their warm admiration of the character and capacity of the late President, and sincere sympathy with the people of the United States in the loss sustained, but their hearty approval of the great cause Mr. Lincoln represented.

The platform contained many of the Parliamentary gentlemen, and many leading citizens of the Metropolis. Many leaders were present, a majority of whom were in mourning. Various resolutions were carried, not only with unanimity, but with an intense feeling, rarely seen at public meetings. The chair was occupied by William Evans, President of the Emancipation Society.

Letters of sympathy have been received from Sir Charles Lyell, Lord Hamilton, and others.

W. E. Foster, member of Parliament, moved the first resolution that this meeting desires to give utterance to feelings of grief and sorrow with which it has heard of the assa sination of President Lincoln and the murderous attack on Mr. Seward, and to convey to Mrs. Lincoln and the United States government and people expressions of its profound sorrow and heartfelt condolence.

Mr. Foster said this was the time when the tie of blood binding Englishmen to Americans was indeed truly felt. A thrill of grief, horror and indignation which had passed through the length and breadth of Europe, and especially possessed the heart of every Englishman as though some painful calamity had fallen on himself. [Cheers.]

This meeting would send by the ship which left their shores that night its sympathy for the widow and orphans, and if the country had not lost their faith for the future he was confident in the belief that they had so learned a lesson of common history that they would prove what strength a free and christian people have to bear up against every blow like this, though it be such a blow as had rarely ever fallen on any commonwealth. He expressed as his convictions that President Johnson would continue President Lincoln's work of restoring peace to the country and ensuring freedom to all who may dwell in it. [Great cheering.]

Liverpool, April 29.—Cotton—Sales of 10,000 bales; 3,000 to speculators and exporters. Market firm and unchanged. Breadstuffs quiet and steady. Provisions steady. There was a great meeting of the merchants of Liverpool at St. George's Hall on the afternoon of the 27th, to express the sentiments of the people at the assassination of Mr. Lincoln.

The Mayor presided, and he and several leading men made speeches denouncing the crime and expressing sympathy with the people of the United States in the strongest terms. A resolution expressing sorrow and horror, regardless of all differences of opinion politically or otherwise, was adopted and ordered to be sent to the American Minister at London, to Mrs. Lincoln, and Mrs. Seward.

On the evening of the same day, and at the same place, there was another great meeting of workingmen, at which similar resolutions were adopted. A resolution of a more political character was offered and led to confusion, admidst which the meeting adjourned.

The Common Council of London, American Chamber of Commerce in Liverpool public bodies in various parts of England have adopted resolutions of sympathy and indignation.

Large numbers of Germans in London also presented an address to Mr. Adams, our Minister in London.

MAGAZINE.

ON THE 12TH OF APRIL WILL BE PUBLISHED the first number of

HOURS AT HOME:

A popular Magazine of Religious and Useful Literature; edited by JAMES M SHERWOOD.

HOURS AT HOME is designed to stand among our monthly magazines as the representative of the religious element of American literature. Besides articles on purely religious subjects, it will contain Reviews of Books, Biographical and Historical Sketches; Poetry, Notes of Travel, Moral Tales, Papers on Popular Science, and essays upon Miscellaneous Topics. Discarding the frivolous, the irreligious and corrupting, it will furnish a pure, healthful and instructive literature; it will be animated also by a thoroughly catholic spirit, so that it may belong to the entire American church. In brief, HOURS AT HOME will aim to be what its name indicates a Family Magazine, unexceptionable in all its teachings, elevated in tone and utensil, at the same time it will strive to render itself an invaluable aid to the Sunday-school teacher, and a welcome visitor to the study of every pastor.

While HOURS AT HOME will be thoroughly American, the editor will avail himself of the choicest materials furnished by the Foreign Religious Magazines. The articles will be short, varied and sprightly. No expense will be spared to make it equal to any magazine in the country in mechanical execution and general appearance. Each number will contain 96 pages royal octavo, double columns.

The following are among the numerous eminent clergymen and laymen of all denominations distinguished as popular writers, who have been engaged as contributors to HOURS AT HOME. Their names will be a sufficient pledge of the high standard of literary and religious excellence which will characterize it:

EXCITING CHASE.

Jeff. Davis Very Closely Pressed

By Stoneman, Wilson and Grierson

Grierson Likely to Capture Him.

Union Army Homeward Bound.

Exciting March for the Capital.

Sherman Pressing Meade Close.

Mexican Emigration Excitement.

Union Officers to be Mustered Out.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Time's Washington special of the 9th says: The capture of Jeff. Davis is now looked upon by the military authorities as certain. In addition to the particulars of his whereabouts, as telegruphed last night, it is now known that Davis and the two brigades of cavalry with him are so completely enveloped by Stoneman, Wilson, and Grierson, that escape is impossible, except as a disguised and solitary fugitive.

The latest intelligence renders it probable that Grierson, who commands the cavalry under Gen. Canby, will succeed in capturing Davis in his flight across Alabama.

The march of the homeward bound armies continues with unabated vigor. Gen. Meade's veteran columns had hardly made their grand march through the conquered capital of rebellion before the camp fires of Sherman's legion lightened up the banks of the James. The advance of Meade's troops was to-day in the vicinity of Louisa Court House, and is expected to encamp near Alexandria to-night. Sherman's four corps are expected to pass through Richmond to-morrow, and they will press the Army of the Potomac hard in the homeward march. Sheridan's cavalry left Petersburg yesterday to move overland to Alexandria. The main part of the forces will come to this vicinity, and probably undergo reorganization at once. One brigade of cavalry will be left at Lynchburg, another at Danville, and another at Petersburg, which will patrol the country, preserve order, and punish guerrillas and outlaws.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Herald's Richmond special of the 8th, says: The streets of Richmond were, on Saturday last, the scenes of a magnificent and inspiring military pageant, illustrative of the power and grandeur of our great Republic and the valor and indominitable perseverance of its voluntary defenders. Two corps of the Army of the Potomac, the 2d and 5th, on that day enjoyed the highly appreciated privilege of marching through the city, towards the capture of which their brave efforts for four years have been directed, on their triumphal route to Washington.

The 2d and 5th corps were received in Richmond by the 24th corps, and the moving columns presented a splendid array of 50,000 men, whose steady lines, faultless marching, bright bayonets glistening in the sunlight, battle torn and war stained flags, and all the paraphernalia of a great army, formed a spectacle not soon to be forgotten by those who witnessed it. It is expected that the march from Richmond to Washington will occupy about ten or twelve days.

The Herald says the Mexican emmigration excitement increases. The office for enrollment is unable to accommodate the applicants. There is a great rush of army officers and soldiers who are discharged.

The Mexican General Ortega is highly delighted with the prospects.

It is said the first has subscribed large sums of money to the enterprise, and that 25,000 men are to be raised there, to be commanded by Gen. Rosencrans.

Meeting in Washington--Rebels not to be Allowed to Return to that City.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Orders have been issued from the War Department for the discharge of a large number of citizen clerks and the substitution of enlisted men.

A public meeting of fifteen thousand persons w s held in front of City Hall to-night, at which speeches were made and resolutions passed having in view the prevention of the return or the remaining within the District of Columbia of residents who have participated in the rebellion. The ground is taken that men who have wilfully endeavored to destroy the Government can have no home in its Capital.

Officers to be Mustered Out.

NEW YORK, May 9.—By direction of the President all company and staff officers not registered as absent from their commands on account of physical disability, or by virtue of leaves of absence, granted them on their return to loyal States as prisoners of war, will be honorably mustered out of service of the United States on the 15th inst. Said officers will immediately apply by letter to the Adjutant General for their muster out and discharge papers. In case of physical disability from disease or wounds the letter must be accompanied by a medical certificate of usual form. Postoffice address of officers must be given with care in all cases.

Court for the Trial of the Assassins.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The court for the trial of the conspirators concerned in the murder of the President, and attempted assassination of Secretary Seward, convened to-day and proceeded to arrange the rules and mode of proceedings in said court. It is not yet determined whether the proceedings will be made public as the trial progresses.

Prisoners David E. Harrold, Geo. E. Atzol, Lewis Payne, L. B. Arnold, Michael McLaughlin, Samuel Mudd, and M. E. Surratt, on being brought before the military commission to-day, were asked whom they wished to select as counsel, when they named the following gentlemen. Harrold, Messrs. Fred. Stone, Jos. H. Bradley, and J. M. Carlisle; Payne, Mr. Mason Campbell, of Baltimore; Mrs. Surratt, Hon. Reverdy Johnson and Mr. W. Wallace Kirby; Samuel Mudd, Robert J. Brent, of Baltimore. The others did not name counsel.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A Washington special to the Times says the evidence against Davis & Co. is to be sent to all our ministers abroad, together with descriptions and photographs of the fugitives.

General Grant has ordered the several corps commanders to recommed a certain number of meritorious offiers for promotion to the regular army.

A special to the Tribune says the representatives of the Christian Commission, who paid their respects to Lee have been dismissed.

One year soldiers are to be returned to their respective capitals and be mustered out of service at once.

The witnesses in the assassination case are panic stricken, fearing assassination in case they give their testimony.

One of them yesterday made a verbal statement to the Secretary of War relative to the complicity of Thompson, Saunders and the rest.

He positively refused to appear before the Court unless assured that his name, residence and testimony should be suppressed.

The newspaper reporters are to be excluded from the court during the examination.

This was conceded to him, but it is believed that he has fled North in another panic.

RIVER MATTERS.

ARRIVALS.
WEDNESDAY, May 10.

St. Nicholas, Cincinnati.	United States, Cincinnati.
Gen. Buell, "	Shamrock, "
Emma Floyd "	Wren, Ky. river.

DEPARTURES.

St. Nicholas, Cincinnati.	Gen. Buell, Cincinnati.
United States, "	Elenora Correll, "
Peytona "	Wren, Madison.
Emma Floyd, Nashville.	Shamrock, Nashville.
Star Grey Eagle, Henderson.	Rose Hite, Evansville.

THE RIVER continues rising, with conued wet weather, and there were eleven feet water in the canal last evening, by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours the rise was thirteen inches at the wharf, and fully three feet at the foot of the falls. The weather was extremely rainy all day, with a prospect of its continuance all night.

On the falls last evening there were fully eight feet steamboat water down the middle chute, or for ascending boats.

The Peytona and the Elenora Carrel ascended the falls from Portland last evening, bound for Cincinnati to load for New Orleans.

The river at Cincinnati yesterday had risen over three feet, with rainy weather, and every prospect of high water.

Capt. Sanders, of the Wren, from Kentucky river, reports that stream rising again, though not very fast.

At Pittsburg Monday there were 9 feet 5 inches water in the channel, and the river falling slowly; with the departure of a fleet of towboats with coal for lower ports. There had not been water enough to let the flatboat fleet start.

The Shamrock, with a brace of barges in tow, laden with hay, descended the falls yesterday bound for Nashville.

The Norman, Captain Cox, having been detained by the wet weather, takes her departure to Nashville and all Cumberland river landings this evening. She is at the city wharf, and will take freight and passengers to Paducah. The clerk, Nat. Johnson, will be found prompt and attentive.

The Palestine, Captain Ed. Crider, is loading for Nashville, and will meet with dispatch.

FASHION FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The superb steamer Fashion having been detained completing her cargo by the wet weather, takes her departure to New Orleans and all intermediate points this morning. She is at the city wharf, and will get off about 11 o'clock, providing choice fare and accommodations for passengers. She is one of the largest, fastest and finest boats on the river, Capt. Power a good boatman, W. H. Cropper, the clerk, courteous and attentive, and John Jackson, the steward, one of the very best on the river. In all her appointments the Fashion takes the lead and is second to none.

The Elnora, Capt. John B. Richey, is the "People's Line" packet this evening for Leavenworth, Cannellton, Owensboro, Evansville and all intermediate points. She is in as an independent packet, to ply regularly along the line, leaving this port every Thursday and Monday evening. She starts from the city wharf this evening at 5 o'clock, and passeng rs will find Lou. Beeler and Jas. Green, the clerks, to be polite and attentive.

The Cumberland river at Nashville Tuesday was swelling with over 6 feet water on the shoals, and the arrival of the Huntsville and Citizen.

The Ella Faber, Capt. Gilmore, left Nashville Tuesday for this port.

The Carrie and Leni Leoti are plying between Nashville and Evansville.

The new packet Rose Hite, under the auspices of the mail line is now plying the packet trade between this port and Evansville. She is in charge of Capt. Geo. Evans, a very popular boatman, with John Pendleton in the office. The Rose Hite will be at the city wharf and depart this evening at 5 o'clock for all points along the lower Ohio as far as Evansville.

FOR CINCINNATI.—The St. Charles, in charge of Capt. Watts, an accomplished and experienced boatman, is the People's Line packet for Cincinnati and the East at noon to-day. She provides comfortably for passengers, and we learn that a pleasure party embracing seventy-five couple, all young folks, take passage on her to-day.

The Gen. Lytle, Captain Godman, a good and courteous boatman, is the regular and punctual U. S. mail line packet for Cincinnati and the East to-day. She starts at noon and connects with the early trains going East.

The Major Anderson, in charge of Capt. Frank Carter, of this city, is the evening line mailboat to-day. She starts at four o'clock, providing choice fare for passengers.

The Darling is due from Memphis bound for Cincinnati.

The Atlantic, from New Orleans the 3d, was at Cairo on the 8th. She had 985 prisoners for Memphis, and pulled the Cincinnati gunboat A. O. Tyler off of Island 95.

The Indiana, Capt. Neal, is the next boat due from New Orleans.

The St. Louis Democrat of Tuesday has the following interesting river news:

"Business is not too brisk. There is absolutely no freight here for Nashville. Shipments continue fair to the Missouri. Competition in the New Orleans trade has reduced rates so much that it has become a marvel how the steamers in it manage to pay expenses. The Illinois and Lower Missouri are rising; the Upper Mississippi and Upper Missouri falling. Here the river continues to rise slowly. Hence to Cairo there is twenty-one feet in the channel; to Keokuk, fourteen feet; on the rapids, five and one-half feet; below St. Paul, four feet; in the Illinois, ten feet; in the Missouri, to Jefferson City, six feet; above Jefferson City, four feet or less."

"The Magenta, City of Cairo and Mollie Able arrived Sunday, all having made fast trips. The Magenta's feat is the most astounding of the three. Magenta, from New Orleans, time from port to port, four days and twenty-three hours; lost eighteen hours discharging soldiers and freight on the way. Brought to St. Louis 300 tons of freight, and had 140 cabin passengers; stopped four hours at Memphis to fix wheel; had 300 paroled prisoners to points below. Running time from New Orleans to St. Louis, 4 days 5 hours. The departures include the Emerald for Cincinnati, and Niagara for New Orleans."

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE UNION PRESS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 10, 1865.

The market has been very much depressed to-day, with but few transactions to report and not much out-door business. The extremely disagreeable weather and muddy thoroughfares has also been a great check to business, with a steady rain nearly all day long. Now that the restrictions to trade are being removed, a very general revival of trade with the South may be expected, and we hope soon to see lines of regular packets plying between this port and the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers. A meeting is to be held at the Merchants' Exchange at noon to-day, and we hope all business men will participate. The custom house fee of 3 per cent. on goods shipped to Tennessee has been abolished, but parties as heretofore must have permits from Nashville. Considerable shipments were made to-day free of charge.

The money market was very dull to-day, with no counter demand for coin, though the rate has very materially declined. Gold opened in New York this morning, as we learn by the dispatches to the Merchants' Exchange at 135¾, declining to 136¾ at 11:30 A. M., and down to 131⅛ at 12:30 P. M.—the lowest rate yet. Money matters are easy, and brokers nominally quote as follows:
